ELEVEN LIVES LOST IN WRECK

Remarkable that Casualty List Did Not Reach 100.

CARS DERAILED AND BURNED

Disaster at Martin's Creek, Pa., Causes Grief Among Friends of Teachers from Utica, N. Y.—Cause Is Not Known.

Easton, Pa., May 1. — Eleven lives were lost in the derailment and burning of the Utica Teachers' special near Martin's Creek. The railroad men themselves say that the most remarkable feature of the wreck was that 100 were not killed in the terrific shock and the sudden sweep of fire.

Flames were rushing from end to end of the track. The passengers were burned. Half a dozen teachers got to the ground with their hair ablaze. For minutes after the Utica women were tearing skirts from each other. One ran an eighth of a mile across a plowed field trying to loose herself from a burning skirt. It was lucky that Farmer Dan Hilliard saw her distress.

Of the dead there were three in the Easton hospital— Eleanor Rutherford, a teacher, of 96 West street, Utica; Charles M. Person, the train conductor, of Stroudsburg, and M. W. Vanoy, the engineer, of Trenton. There seems no reason to doubt that eight had died in the fire. From the mass of ashes and twisted iron the wrecking crew removed fragments of four bodies. More could be seen, but until the embers cooled it was impossible to reach them.

Professor C. Augustus Burton, principal of school 20., and president of the Utica Teachers' association, said that he had sent word home that these six teachers, all of Utica, perished in the flames: Sophie Kuoult, Blandina street; Mrs. Mary Allen, 100 Mandillve street; Sarah Jones, Part avenue; Susan Sessions, Jessie Walker and Louise Lindsman. Stewart F. Day, secretary to Mayor Frederick Gilmore of Utica, sent word to the mayor that after a talk with the Pennsylvania railroad officials he was convinced that no further hope should be held out to the relatives and friends of the six.

Besides the seven teachers four employes of the Pennsylvania are dead—Person, the conductor; Vanoy, the engineer; Harry Wilmer, the baggage agent, and Joseph Bicknell, the tourist agent, whose home was in Philadelphia.

The fire made such headway that it was impossible for assistance to reach the victims.

The investigation made by Professor Burton and Vincent Brown and Miss Marion Haskins, one of the heroines of the wreck, determined definitely that at least fifty of the teachers were burned or cut or bruised.

The cause of the wreck is not known as yet. The railroad officials were unwilling to furnish information to relatives or friends of the teachers.

GREAT FIRE IN BANGOR

Damage of Many Millions Is Already Done.

Flames Cover Tract Half Mile in Diameter and All Wires Are Down.

Boston, May 1. — A disastrous fire, the loss from which has already amounted to many millions of dollars, is raging in Bangor, Me. At an early hour it covered a diameter of half a mile. The Western Union wires and the telephone wires went down almost immediately, and the Postal went out of commission soon after. It will be late before details are obtainable.

Bangor, next to Chicago, is the chief lumber depot in the United States. Its population is approximately 22,000. The city is on the Penobscot river, which taps the forests of Maine and brings to the city logs and sawed timber. In Bangor are many saw mills and planing mills and the pulp and paper mills, also use quantities of pulp wood brought down by the river and the railroads.

The city is sixty miles from the mouth of Penobscot, lying at the head of navigation. There is deep water communication with the sea and many ships clear annually for foreign ports and the coastwise trade.

Beside the lumbering and shipping industry, Bangor had furniture factories, machine shops, boot and shoe factories and foundries.

The Kenduskaeg stream, so-called, empties into the Penobscot at Bangor, dividing the city, the sections of which are connected with bridges. The Kenduskeag and the Penobscot, which is dammed immediately above the city, furnish water power for the factories and mills.

MILAN FARMER SHOT DOWN BY DEMENTED MAN

Hugh Hanlon, a farmer near Milan, is dead as a consequence of the deliberate shooting by a madman. On Saturday last Mr. Hanlon was dragging one of his fields and, arriving at the end turned his team to come back. Upon facing about, he found himself confronting Wylie McManus with a 22-calibre rifle in his hand which was pointed at his victim's heart. Without a word of explanation, without even an exclamation of warning, or a pause for preparation, McManus shot Mr. Hanlon dead. The deed was not without horrified witnesses. His son Peter stood near, likewise Lewis and James McManus. The rifle was quickly taken from McManus by the brother who stood nearest, and he went home, still without speaking, and sat down.

George Sherman, a son-in-law of the murdered man, notified the sheriffs, who came after McManus and took him to Monroe. At last reports he had not broken his silence. He was twenty-nine years old. McManus is said to be a slow-witted fellow and has been considered deranged for the last seven or eight years, yet not dangerous. He and the Hanlon family have been acquainted for years and no trouble of any sort existed between them. In Saturday's encounter there was not indeed any time for trouble to be declared or to develop.

Mr. Hanlon leaves a wife, a daughter, Mrs. George Sherman, living about two miles south of Milan, a son Peter, who lives in the homestead, and a son William who is in the Kalamazoo asylum. The funeral will take place Tuesday morning at 9:30 from the Catholic church at Cone.

CHANCE TO INVEST IN A HOME INDUSTRY

The Huron Paper and Papeterie Co. recently decided to increase its capital stock from $15,000 to $50,000 and all but about $5,000 of the necessary amount has been subscribed.

Before going outside of Ypsilanti for capital the company desires to let our home people have a chance to take an interest in a home industry.

The Pay Roll now amounts to about $200.00 per week and the additional capital is wanted to add new machinery to increase production which means an increased Pay Roll. Pay Rolls are what Ypsilanti needs.

You are invited to call and inspect factory at corner of Hurin and Pearl street whether you care to take a financial interest or not.

DARROW, WHO WILL DEFEND ALLEGED DYNAMITERS, ASSAILS METHODS OF THEIR CAPTORS

Chicago, May 1.—Clarence S. Darrow, who will conduct in Los Angeles the defense of the two McNamaras and Ortie McManigal, accused of dynamiting the building of the Los Angeles Times, bitterly renounces the action of the detectives who arrested the accused and took them to Los Angeles for trial. Dr. Darrow, who defended Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone in Boise, Ida., denies that he took any part in the kidnapping proceedings brought against W. J. Burns and others who spirited J. J. McNamara away from Indianapolis. "The Structural Iron Workers had nothing to do with it," he said. "That matter originated with other organizations. I am frank to say that the arrest of the union men by the detectives was a raw piece of work. McNamara had no opportunity whatever to consult attorneys, and any lawyer in Indianapolis will admit that the proceedings were illegal. Nothing can be done about it now, however. McNamara is now in California and there is no way in which he can be brought back to Indianapolis. I talked with Governor Marshall, who is a good lawyer, and I do not believe that he acted illegally. He seems to be a fair and upright man and will see to it that there is not another McNamara case in his state. He explained that extradition papers were coming into his office every day or so, and he signed them without reading, as the law in Indianapolis requires that the papers must go to a judge from the governor, and it is the duty of the judge to decide on the legality of the proceedings.

NO ENROLLMENT FOR COUNTY CORN CONTEST

The purpose of the Washtenaw County Boys' and Girls' Corn Contest in the elementary schools so far as it has definite aim, is to awaken in boys and girls an interest in farming and domestic operations by bringing them to see and appreciate the beauty, independence, and general desirability of rural life.

By the proper study of these subjects mental culture can also be secured as effectively as by the exclusive use of the so-called disciplinary studies, while at the same time a broader view and better appreciation of life is imparted to the pupil.

In many states of the Union there is a very active interest in "Corn Contests." Statistics show that the yield per acre has increased in the states that have been making popular, corn raising by the boys and girls of the rural schools.

Last year the Pomona Grange of Washtenaw County assisted by County School Commissioner Evan Essery and W. C. Housel conducted a corn contest in this county.

In November, 1910, thirty-three boys exhibited corn and Prof. Jeffrey of the M. A. C. judged the exhibit. Considerable interest was shown and the feeling prevailed that the effort made gave large returns.

This year the Grange and the Contest Committee desire the cooperation of every one interested in agriculture.

The announcement recently sent out provided for an enrollment fee of twenty-five cents. The contest committee now announce that there will be no enrollment fee.

The premiums amount to sixty-five dollars as now offered, but there will be other premiums provided for.

Pupils can procure enrollment blanks from their teachers or by writing County School Commissioner Evan Essery.

'BROKE' AND HUNGRY HE STEALS AUTO TO REACH HIS FAMILY

A nicely dressed young man who refused to give his name was arrested in this city Saturday afternoon by Ypsilanti officers on a charge of stealing a Hupmobile from Mr. Carey, a Detroit contractor, and was taken back to Detroit Saturday evening by Detective Parker.

A wire from Detroit officers notifying Ypsilanti officers to be on the look out for the thief was received by Chief of Police Gage at noon. Shortly after 2 o'clock a Hupmobile bearing the license number of the stolen machine was seen on River St. and the thief was caught near the Normal. He was put in jail and held till Detective Parker arrived at 6 o'clock and taken back to Detroit. The machine is now in Dolson's Garage where it will remain till Wednesday when the owner will come for it.

The stranger when questioned by the officers claimed that he was out of work, had no money and had had nothing to eat for three days. He said he was on his way to Chicago to see his wife. His story was doubted, however, by the officers.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU GIRLS HAVE PARTY AT TEMPLE

The annual party of the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority was held at the Masonic Temple, Saturday, April 29. Stone's orchestra of Detroit furnished the music. The grand march was led by Professor and Mrs. E. A. Lyman. The features of the evening were three novel dances. In the pin dance the large electric fraternity pin furnished the only light in the dark dance. Another attraction of the evening was an original sorority two-step composed by Miss B. Vroman a member of the sorority. A favor dance was the third feature during which the guests, as they danced through a lighted arch covered with smilax, received the sorority flower, a yellow rose.

The alumni guests were: Ellen Henley, Jackson; Oda Kitridge, St. Johns; Mildred Arnold, Three Rivers; Ruth Smith, Byron; Margaret Woodworth, Byron; Helen Woodworth, Saline; Edna Ginerich, North Manchester, Indiana: Agnes Collins, Toledo, Ohio; Nina Beebe, Ovid; Majel High, Ionia; Dona Morton, Owosso; Ella Brower, Wyandotte; Kathryn Jillson, Bancroft; Dona Lee, Detroit. Miss Ruth VanLenven represented the Beta chapter of Mt. Pleasant. The out of town guests were Hazel Bartholomew, Romeo; Margaret Henley, Jackson; Carl Godfrey, Detroit; Fred Giverick; North Manchester, Indiana; James Ferguson, Pontiac.

Miss Ella Wilson entertained Saturday afternoon in honor of the Alumni members of the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority.

MODEL YOUTH A BURGLAR

George May, Acquitted on Insanity Plea, Found Guilty.

Rockford, Ill., May 1.—George May, who was a model youth by day and daring robber by night, was convicted of burglary after one juror had held out twenty hours for acquittal.

May's arrest last July cleared a long series of burglaries which had baffled the police. In a cave under his workshop stolen goods ranging from toilet articles to an electric motor were found. The value of the loot, none of which he ever sold, exceeded $2,000. His confession astounded his friends. He was tried last fall on one indictment and acquitted on a defense of insanity. Since then he has worked steadily in one of the factories he robbed. Insanity was the plea on the second trial. If another trial is refused he probably will be sentenced to the penitentiary.

PLAN GENERAL STRIKE

Purpose to Present Organized Labor in Great Protest.

Day J. J. McNamara Goes on Trial Is to be Signal for Widespread Walk-Out.

St. Louis, May 1.—A general strike of every laboring man in the United States, to be called on the day J. J. McNamara, now in jail in Los Angeles, Cal., in connection with the blowing up of the Times building there last winter, comes to trial is to be labor's protest against the alleged "kidnapping" of McNamara, according to a circular prepared by the Industrial Workers of the World, a Chicago organization, controlling 50,000 men. This circular, which will be sent all over the United States in a few days, was read here by William D. Haywood, to a massmeeting of 1,000 Socialists and labor unionists who packed Aschenbroedal hall to hear Haywood, who five years ago, with Moyer and Pettibone, was "kidnapped" in Denver and rushed by special train to Boise City, Ida., on a similar charge to that which McNamara must face.

According to Haywood's plan as outlined in the circular and for which he stands sponsor, the Socialists are expected to organize the workers outside the labor unions and persuade them to quit their jobs on the day McNamara comes to trial, while the union men are expected to join in the movement.

FARMERS ARE TO STORM CONGRESS

Demonstration against Canadian Trade Bill Planned.

300 TO ENFORCE PROTEST

Agriculturists of Northwest Will Descend Upon Congress in Force Latter Part of This Week—Two Senators Lead Them.

Washington, May 1.—A demonstration against the Canadian trade bill will be made before the senate committee on finance by northwestern farmers the latter part of this week.

The arrangements for this affair are in the hands of Senators McCumber and Smoot, who are bitterly opposed to the agreement. The farmers' invasion" was planned some weeks ago. The Grangers of the northwest deluged their representatives in congress with protests against the Canadian bill and finally one of them suggested that the farmers should appear here in person. Northwestern senators and representatives approved the idea, and now the announcement is made that the end of the week will witness the arrival in Washington of "two train loads of farmers," each and every one of them guaranteed to be a real agrarian.

If the "farmers' invasion" realizes the expectations of those who have charge of the arrangements it will be one of the most picturesque affairs ever staged before a committee of congress. According to the two senators the delegations, comprising 300 or more, will be made up exclusively of farmers, who want to tell the senate through the committee of finance that the ratification of the Canadian agreement would be a bad thing for the agricultural states of the middle and northwest.

There are persons in Washington unkind enough to say that the "farmers' invasion" will prove a disappointment to those behind the movement. They predict that the delegation will be made up in the main of professional agriculturists and former officeholders. For example, it is pointed out that the Grangers from North Dakota will be headed by former Senator Henry C. Hansbrough of that state, who will appear as spokesman for farmers, but who is really not a farmer himself.

DR. KIEFER BEFORE DETROIT TALKS ON TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. Guy L. Kiefer, health physician of Detroit, was greeted by a fair-sized audience at the Congregational church Sunday evening. He came under the auspices of the local society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Dr. Kiefer has had a wide experience in Detroit and has finally succeeded in getting that city to establish a "tuberculosis training school," as he calls it, of about 75 beds, and he surprised many of his auditors by asserting that a capacity of 100 beds would be sufficient for a city of the size of Detroit with about 400,000 people.

Dr. Kiefer said the disease known as tuberculosis is too prevalent because it is preventible and that there should be few, if any, deaths. Two

HOW PROTECT THE FARMERS AND NOT FURTHER FORTIFY THE HIGH PROTECTED TRUSTS?

The problem suggested in this title is the one which seems to confront congress in its consideration of the proposed Canadian Reciprocity treaty. The friends of the treaty certainly have not persuaded the farmers that they are not getting a raw deal in the treaty as originally drawn, and there are a goodly number of people besides farmers who can see the farmers' side of the question. There are a goodly number of others that ought to see it, but won't.

An unfortunate feature of the farmer's side of the question is that the high protection gang in New England are laying their emphasis upon the injustice to the farmer and thus endeavoring to defeat a measure which hits such protected interests which ought to be hit and hit hard. It seems to us that they are hypocritically claiming that they are the friends of the agricultural classes and are attempting to aid them in their fight on this measure.

And another unfortunate thing for the farmer is that the same old principle which has always been the underlying principle in the whole tariff propaganda, suggested by General Hancock in his statement that "the tariff is a local issue," is still with us, and so those friendly to the measure in its entirety appeal to the laboring classes, who live in the cities and are engaged largely in manufacturing, to bring pressure to bear to pass the measure because it will reduce the cost of their living, represented by the food stuff raised by the farmer. In other words it will greatly increase the supply of food stuff and in a common market. Hence the competition for the price will reduce the price and they will benefit by it.

Our population has increased so very much more rapidly in the cities than in the country that we have the spectacle of the law of enlightened self-interest, as enthroned in the cities and their population, working against the agricultural interests and, as it seems to us, to the decided injury of the agricultural interests of this country. And whatever does a decided injury to the agricultural interests of this country will ultimately do a decided injury to the entire country.

It will certainly retard the flow of the "back to the farm" stream which the sociologists and the philanthropists and the railroad corporations have so industriously been at work upon for the last few years, in order to overcome the congested centers in the cities and overcome the rapid increase of criminality, insanity and other permanent burdens loaded upon the rest of the people, by reason of unsanitary conditions, by reason of starvation conditions, of underpaid and underfed conditions in the cities, which react upon the country and build up a cost charge which everybody who has any property at all has to help in shouldering.

The principle of reciprocity is one that ought to be extended and must be extended, but if this initial purpose to extend it is coupled with injustice to one of the most important classes of citizens in our country, it will set back the normal growth and extension of this principle, we fear, many a year. It isn't a question of endeavoring to get an advantage or a disadvantage for some particular party during this congress or succeeding congresses, but of essential justice to two great peoples.

PITCHER COOMBS HAS ONE PECULIAR HOBBY.

Jack Coombs, the steel armed pitcher of the Philadelphia Americans, has one hobby—a collection of pipes. No matter where he travels, he tours the lanes, small streets and the curiosity shops. He is always in hunt of another trophy for his smoking emporium.

He has every style, bore and caliber, but he confesses that the sweetest one of the lot is an old corncob furnace that he whiffs after a battle on the diamond. Coombs is a quiet fellow, but any one desiring to open up a conversation with the mighty man from Maine only has to talk "pipes" and he is sure to be entertained by the peerless pitcher.

SPORTS IN SMALL CHUNKS

Cornell university has 180 oarsmen trying for seats in interclass crews.

The international tennis tournament at Niagara-on-the-Lake has been fixed for the week of Aug. 28.

Dominion of Canada rowing clubs may send four crews to the Royal English Henley regatta in London next July.

A Porto Rico high school baseball team will visit New York May 29 and play a series of games with schoolboy teams in Gotham.

Many of the eastern universities are having the eight oared shells for their varsity eights built in England. Among the latest are Annapolis, Columbia and Harvard.

Menaul of the University of Chicago, though he weighs but 146 pounds and is better known as a quarter mile runner, has been showing wonderful form in the shot put this spring.

Cicotte, the Boston Americans' twirler, has developed an "aeroplane" curve which has a "naughty little wiggle." The ball does a houchi-couchee as it nears the plate.

Syd Smith, it is said, is to do the catching for the left handed Cleveland pitchers this season. The rotund backstop is said to be a past master at handling port siders.

A rusty nail piercing his foot at Los Angeles one year ago didn't put Billy Sullivan out of business after all. The veteran will catch practically all of the games for the Chicago Americans this season.

Cy Falkenberg of Cleveland, in addition to his new fadeaway ball, has developed an underhand affair to mix with it. He starts it at a height of seven feet, swoops it down to the ground, and it crosses the plate with the chin elevated like an angry old maid.

KEEP AN EYE ON JACKSON.

Cleveland's Crack Young Outfielder Out For Batting Honors This Season.

Probably the work of no player on the Cleveland team is being more closely watched than that of Joe Jackson, the Naps' brilliant center fielder. The young ex-Southern leaguer, who led the American league batters last year with an average of .387 for the twenty games in which he participated, has declared he is out for the batting honors of the country. Last summer Jackson was a sensation in the field, at bat and on the base lines in the Southern circuit. He looked like four aces to a man with his last peso in a showdown to the Cleveland fans last fall.

This season he appears to be as good if not a bit better than the closing days of 1910. He is a terrific hitter, wielding a bat that would make a Samson hesitate. American league pitchers say they will find his weakness pretty soon and slow him up, but old timers who have watched him shake their heads and insist the soft spoken boy is another Lajoie, a batter without a weakness. It is certain that Jackson last fall faced the best pitchers in the league and that they all looked alike to him. In addition to his splendid batting, Jackson is as fast a man as Ty Cobb.

JOE JACKSON, CLEVELAND'S CRACK OUTFIELDER.

He covers a wonderful amount of ground in the outfield, and his throwing is of the sort that makes the blase sit up and toss their hats into the air. Jackson played with the New Orleans club last season and led his league in batting with a percentage of .354.

Schreiber Has Large Stable.

Barney Schreiber, the Missouri bookmaker, now owns more thoroughbreds than any other one man in America, having nearly 500 head. He has 110 yearlings.

RUCKER OFFERS SUGGESTION

Twirler Says He Would Tie Bases Down With Rubber Bands.

Fate had put it up to George Bell, the big farmer from Academy Corners, Pa., to pitch the opening game for Brooklyn against Boston.

Nap Buckner had set his heart on starting the season, and he was extremely reluctant to admit that his twisted ankle would put him out of the game for weeks.

Nap is far from a spendthrift, and the news had another angle that hurt him.

"Gee," he complained, "have I got to stop longer at that fifteen dollar a week hotel?"

It was suggested that Nap take a taxicab home, but he balked at the dollar expense when a trolley car cost only a nickel.

"Say," said Buckner, "why can't they fasten the bases down with a rubber band so there would be some give to them? It would prevent a lot of these accidents."

Manager Mack Has Clever System.

Connie Mack keeps a score of every game and files a record away each day, so that when a player comes to signing a contract and asks for more money Connie can show him just what he has been able to do on every occasion he went to the plate. There is some system to that.

WOULD RATHER WHIP HOPES THAN BE A HOPE.

Boxers sometimes get some peculiar ambitions. Jim Savage is a husky young heavyweight who has done a lot of fighting around New York, where he recently put "White Hope" Frank Moran out of the running. Savage has an ambition, and it is not to be a white hope. All he wants is the job of cleaning up the white hopes as fast as they bob up. If they can't get by him, to the junk pile with them, says Savage. If they do, let them be recognized as regular white hopes, with a chance to go to the top. Quite some job for Savage, but he declares he would rather be the cleanup kid than one of the hopes.

thousand five hundred die in Michigan annually from this disease and fully 200,000 in the United States. To realize what this means, you need only to recall that during the entire four years' war there were lost on both sides 206,000. There is one person dies in this country of tuberculosis every two minutes and 36 seconds, or 538 every day.

Three Methods of Treatment.

Sanitary science suggests three general methods of treatment: One, immunization; two, isolation; three, disinfection. Complete immunization is not now possible, but relative immunization is. "All of us have been exposed to tuber ulosis many times, and the reason we have not succumbed to its dangers is because our general health has been kept up to a standard where we were able to resist the disease, so that the question of personal hygiene is of the utmost importance.

Frequent Bathing Essential.

"In an intelligent community like this, it is unnecessary to urge the importance of frequent bathing. But I would emphasize something which is often overlooked, and this is, the nescessity of frequently bathing the hands, before eating especially. Rest and recreation are very essential. The old rule of one-third of the day being given up to sleep is none too much, and part of the year ought to be given up to a systematic vacation.

"Contrary to the prevalent opinion, school children are more susceptible to the disease than adults. They are peculiarly susceptible, in my opinion, for one reason because they do not get sufficient rest. Statistics have shown that 23 per cent of all children in the larger cities are infected. Most children are in school too much. Children under 14 years of age shouldn't be in school over three hours in a day, or eight months in the year. It would be far better for the school-children if one-half of them could be in school three hours during the forenoon and the other half three hours in the afternoon, alternating this with three hours of play and recreation and rest. Look out for the ventilation of the homes, the schoolrooms and the shops. If your local society has never accomplished anything more than to persuade the people here of the need, and to get them to adopt the plan of fresh air, in their sleeping-rooms especially, their work has been worth while.

"I attended a meeting a few evenings ago where there were about 50 young people. I asked everyone of them whether they slept throughout the year, winter as well as summer, with their windows partly or fully open, and all but one had done so. Twenty years ago the result would have been diametrically opposite, so that great improvement has been made in this one preventible line.

Women Dress Too Thinly.

"We should have some exercise which is a recreation. Walking is one of the very best. Clothing should be suitable to the climate and our needs. Most women do not dress warm enough, especially in winter. The feet and ankles are too often improperly protected and colds are the result. A neglected cold often will keep you in a condition as to make you susceptible to the attacks of tuberculosis. Diet is always important. Eat wholesome, nournishing food in moderation. Most of us overeat, lowering our power of resistance to disease. Too much fresh air is just enough, especially while sleeping."

"Let's find out early if any one in our community is afflicted with the disease and then help them to recover. If you are losing in weight, tire out easily, seem to be in a sort of run down condition, don't wait until you are sick in bed. Call a physician. Find out what is the matter, and, if there are any physicians here, I would say to them, Always tell the patient if he has tuberculosis. And if you have any fears about it yourself, go to a good physician and ascertain. In the stage when it is difficult to tell, you can always cure it.

Careless Consumptives Dangerous.

"The question of isolation becomes important when one is known to have the disease, that is, the separation of the sick and the well. A careless consumptive is a dangerous person in the community. But he should not be shunned. If he is properly instructed on how to take care of himself, he is not necessarily dangerous. I have said that the safest place for anyone who desires to avoid contracting tuberculosis is in a properly-conducteeded sanitorium. The best method of disinfection and the most practical one is the burning of the sputum. Every community of any considerable size, in my opinion should make provision for the care of its tuberculous patients, especially those who cannot afford to make proper provision for their own care. This provision need not be expensive, because fresh air, plain, wholesome food and instruction on how to take care of oneself are not expensive elements, which are the chief ones entering into the cost of a suitable place for the care of such."

Our local society has arranged for the care of one patient all of the time at Ann Arbor, and one patient is about to go there. The association invites the cooperation of all citizens in this service which promotes the health of the individual affected and protects all the rest.

PETITIONERS FOR SEPTEMBER MUST FILE NAMES IN MAY

County Clerk Chas. L. Miller, in accordance with the orders of the Board of Supervisors, is engaged in preparing a general index of all names of persons who have declared their intentions to become American citizens, and who have become naturalized. He has progressed as far back as 1860 in the Declarations. This is of great importance to those born in a foreign country, such as Canada, Germany, or Great Britain and Ireland, who believe that their fathers declared their intention, but do not know if they ever completed their citizenship before their children became 21 years of age. This is of vital interest, as they are not citizens and not entitled to vote or hold office. If they have been voting and exercising the functions of a citizen, they could come in under the amended Act of June 25, 1910, by which they can Petition for Citizenship without waiting two years after making a Declaration, which is not necessary in these cases.

There is another class of cases in which it is also important to make petitions as soon as possible, that is those that have declared their intentions since May 11th, 1892, as they are not entitled to vote on such Declarations, or hold office. The next hearing in which all these parties can get in is Sept. 1st, and as the names must be posted 90 days, all Petitioners must apply during the month of May to get in on the September 1st hearing in the Circuit Court. In a contested election, some of these cases might cut considerable figure for one or the other of the candidates or in the ultimate decision of public measures, even if there would not be any prosecutions for illegal voting. Persons who are not full citizens cannot secure patents for Government land, be admitted to civil service examinations or get passports. With each year the lines on citizenship are drawn closer. In some states persons are not allowed to carry fire arms who are not full citizens.

MORE ROOMS NECESSARY FOR G.A.R. ENCAMPMENT

During the search among the homes of Ypsilanti to secure as many lodgings as possible for the influx of visitors to Ypsilanti, June 21, 22, and 23, quite a few residents who were temporarily absent had no opportunity to respond. Such persons who have not communicated with Capt. J. H. Woodmon of 417 Ellis St. as to the number of lodgings they will provide for that occasion are urged to do so now.

Ex-soldiers and their wives or widows, members of their families and close friends will be the guests.

Lodgings are to be at the uniform price of 50 cents each. It is hoped that those who furnish lodgings will either provide breakfast for guests or find a place in the vicinity where breakfast can be served to them.

The prices for meals during the encampment the committee have fixed at 25 cents.

Laxative Sent Free to Try

It may be taken for granted that there is no family of any size that goes very long without needing a laxative. If you don't know of a good laxative, or the laxative you are using is losing its effect, we want to call your attention to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of families are using successfully.

We have scores of letters from mothers, and scores from prominent men saying they are using it personally and giving it to their families, men like Mr. C. K. Smith of the Traffic Clearing House, Pine Bluff, Ark., and Mr. George B. Turner, a lawyer of Harlan, Ky. The thousands of mothers who use it themselves and give it to their children would take too much space to mention.

The reason they prefer Syrup Pepsin is that it is a mild, gentle laxative-tonic that does not gripe—effective and yet so mild that babies can take it. Its tonic ingredients invigorate the body and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they again do their work naturally. If you have been a victim of salts, pills and strong cathartics you will discard them when you once use Syrup Pepsin.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any druggist, but before doing so you may want to try it free. If so, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly forward a free sample bottle. Then, being convinced, do as others are doing and buy it in the regular way of your favorite druggist.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.
